

QS Employability Ranking: IIT-D, IIT-B is the top highly employable graduates

Among the eight institutes who make top-class graduates, listed in top 100 of QS Employability Ranking, IIT-D & IIT-B are the best of them.

The university of Delhi has provided the highly successful alumni while IIT-D & IIT-B students are the smart choices of MNCs, according to QS Graduate Employability Rankings. Quacquarelli Symonds announced world's 500 leading universities who manages their graduates at top level.

This ranking system is measured through research, strength and academic reputation. IIT-D & IIT-B falls in 191-200 ranks globally by the global higher education analysts. Followed by them, University of Mumbai and IIT-M falls on 201-250.

QS World University Ranings Graduate Employability 2018 (Global Top 10)

Rank 2018	2018 QSWUR	Institution
191-200	172	Indian Institute of Technology Delhi (IITD)
191-200	179-	Indian Institute of Technology Bombay (IITB)
201-250	801-1000	University of Mumbai
201-250	264-	Indian Institute of Technology Madras (IITM)
201-250	481-490	University of Delhi
251-300	308-	Indian Institute of Technology Kharagpur (IITKGP)
301-500	293-	Indian Institute of Technology Kanpur (IITK)
301-500	190	Indian Institute of Science Bangalore

It also matters of pride that IIT-D jumped from 201-250 group to 191-200. Beside this, it is also appreciated for highest scores in QS's Alumni Outcomes indicator that measures the overall success of university. It scored 96.6 out of 100 which is the 21st highest score worldwide.

Mumbai scored 85/100. Although, universities cannot rely on reputation alone. It has several other major factors that count the overall score & success. In the current generation, innovative teaching, business engagements and campus interviews are the main requirements for every deserved student.

If we talk about the scenario of world, Stanford gains the first spot in every matter. University of California, Los Angeles is second while Harvard University is third.

The major points on which ranking chart is prepared: employer reputation, alumni outcomes, partnerships with employers, employer-student connections, and graduate employment rate.